Trail is clear and fine for use all summer. I will pick up some new rocks that are now in the center of the path. Also, from what I can see it looks like there was an intent to slope all water from 1175 down the drainage ditch on the side to the first water bar and not to allow it to go on to the second waterbar as before. (There is a mound of dirt at the junction of the ditch and the first water bar. If you happen to remember that Dexter, let me know. I was going to tear the mound down, but I thought it best to ask you first.
